PRIVACY POLICY

Effective January 28, 2011

LEO Web Protect has created this privacy statement ("Privacy Policy") in order to demonstrate our firm commitment to your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains the policies and practices used by LEO Web Protect to protect your privacy as you visit and use the website www.leowebprotect.com and associated sub-domains. Your use of the LEO Web Protect website constitutes an acceptance of our User Agreement and Privacy Policy. Your use of any services offered by LEO Web Protect further constitutes acceptance of our User Agreement and Privacy Policy. If you have any questions regarding this Privacy Policy please contact us at info@leowebprotect.com.

THE INFORMATION WE COLLECT

In some areas of our website, LEO Web Protect requests or may request that you provide personally identifiable information, including your name, address, email address, telephone number, username(s), credit card number, billing information and any other information from which your identity is discernible. LEO Web Protect may sometimes afford you the opportunity to provide selective, namely, racial, professional, and/or lifestyle information about yourself, but it is solely up to you whether you furnish such information. If you do provide such information, you are hereby consenting to the use of that information in accordance with the policies and practices described in this Privacy Policy. If your input is to be used by one of our services which involves tracking your personally identifiable information, we will also collect personally identifiable information stored by you from other internet sources and database services. This information may be stored on our servers. No information of this type will be collected about you unless you have purchased a service that requires it.

We also collect analytical data related to the performance of this data via tracking technologies. This data is in no way associated with your personally identifiable information (See Cookies below).

OUR USE AND DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

Except as provided below, the information collected by LEO Web Protect is "aggregated" - meaning that the information from many users is grouped together in a way that does not disclose the personal information of any particular user. LEO Web Protect will not disclose any personally identifiable information about any individual without the individual's consent, except to comply with applicable law or valid legal process. We do not intend in our use of non-identifiable aggregate information about our users, such as the number of users of our services, the geographic distribution of our users, the amount of information stored and retrieved, etc.

Disclosure to Third Parties & Service Providers

LEO Web Protect will not sell any of your personally identifiable information to third parties. LEO Web Protect will not share any of your personally identifiable information with third parties except in the limited circumstances described below. With your express permission, these third parties, except as described in items 10-12 below, are limited to a list of contacts from whom the information for proprietary purposes key to the purposes for all of the information shared:

1. We share information with companies that help us process the transactions you request and protect your transactions from fraud. Additionally, if you go into a negative balance and owe us money, we may share information with processing companies including collect call agencies. We use other third parties to provide fraud and transaction software on our site. This is simply the software we use to charge your credit card. When you sign up to LEO Web Protect, we will share credit card and billing information as necessary for the third party to provide that service. This information includes but is not limited to name, address, and billing phone number.
2. These third parties are prohibited from using your personally identifiable information for any other purpose. If you sign up for a credit service then we will share your payment and billing information as required to process that service.
3. We disclose information that we, in good faith, believe is appropriate to cooperate in investigations of fraud or other illegal activity or to conduct a investigation of a violation of our User Agreement. For example, this means that if we conduct a fraud investigation and conclude that one of our users has engaged in deceptive practices, we can give that person or entity's contact information (but not bank account or credit card information) to victims who request it.
4. We disclose information in response to a subpoena, warrant, court order, levy, attachment, order of a court-appointed receiver, or other comparable legal process, including subpoenas from private parties in civil actions. If the subpoena seeks information about an identified subscriber or limited group of subscribers, we will make reasonable business efforts to contact the subscriber(s) before providing information to the party that requests it. We can't guarantee that we'll be able to check whether we've or if a limit, court order, inability to effectively contact a subscriber, or for any other reason.
5. When a user signs up for a co-branded version of LEO Web Protect through links to LEO Web Protect from our co-branded partner's website, LEO Web Protect will share with the co-branded partner that user's name, email address and physical address in order to provide out-of-office integration between LEO Web Protect's services and the services of the co-branded partner. If you do not want your information shared with LEO Web Protect's co-branded partner, you should sign up to LEO Web Protect directly through www.leowebprotect.com and other sub-domains and not through a link from our partner's website.
6. We disclose information to your agent or legal representative (such as the holder of a power of attorney that you grant, or a guardian appointed for you) or a co-branded partner, if you do not want your information shared with LEO Web Protect's co-branded partner, you should sign up to LEO Web Protect directly through www.leowebprotect.com and other sub-domains and not through a link from our partner's website.
7. We may use aggregated information to evaluate which products and services are successful and which ones are not, and in order to evaluate which new services we should make available on our website.
8. We may disclose information to a third party, if possible that LEO Web Protect or its authorized agent will or be acquired by another company, if such an acquisition occurs. The successor company would have access to the information maintained by LEO Web Protect, including customer account information, but would continue to be bound by this Privacy Policy unless the terms are amended.
